PRESS RELEASE 03 – 2017, Berlin, 12th October 2017

PRIX EUROPA starts under new patronage

Media-makers from all over Europe meet for competition in Berlin

The European Parliament is the new patron of PRIX EUROPA. For this 31st edition of the festival media professionals from all over Europe are congregating in Berlin from 14 – 20 October, in order to select the best European TV-, Radio- and Online productions of the year. A total of 13 prizes are awarded in 10 different categories. In addition, the distinction “European Journalist of the Year” is accorded for the first time. The Awards Ceremony will take place on Friday 20 October, at 5 pm Berlin time, in the big Concert Hall of the rbb. Radioeins’ film expert, Knut Elstermann, will moderate the festive gala. The event will be streamed live on the rbb homepage.

Each subscriber to the PRIX EUROPA Newsletter, can help decide which European Online project will take away this year’s Community Award. The 24 nominated projects will be presented online from 14 October.

PRIX EUROPA was founded 1987. Every year the influential tri-media festival honours the best TV-, Radio- and Online productions from the European continent. The festival distinguishes itself from similar events through its big open jury groups. The winners are determined in open-ended debates and through individual voting. PRIX EUROPA 2017 takes place from 14 to 20 October in Berlin.

Since 1987 PRIX EUROPA honours the best media productions of the continent. The festival PRIX EUROPA is supported by an alliance of 19 European media organisations, as well as the European Commission and the European Broadcasting Union. Since 1997 rbb hosts the festival at Haus des Rundfunks in Berlin. The current President of PRIX EUROPA is Cecilia Benkö Lamborn, Director General of SVERIGES RADIO.
